

and maintenance of the project work was given to the Committee. Members of the group were educated and trained by specialists and master trainers on all relevant aspects of soil and water conservation, water harvesting, plantation, maintenance of records, etc. The master trainers were deployed by the Institute, from within its scientists and specialists appointed by DRDA, and paid from the allotted funds.

Villagers drawing a social map of their village, Majhgawan.

Earthen nala dam with side spillway, Khodari.